I haven't seen the saurus, but I swear one is around. There's an imprint on the wet muddy street the size of an elephant. Right beside the imprint on the ground there is another one - I expect this to come from a flying saucer. It's not the first time I've found one of these - but the government doesn't listen - no one ever listens!

I can hear it... this abominable snoring. I'm to scared to leave my room right now, but I'm sure it is right in front of my rooms door. The snoring stopped... what a creature of gigantic size this must be... it started to move. The ground shakes, it almost feels as if my bed moves... how heavy is this thing? A thousand tons? It... it is right in front of my door! The door opens. this is the end.... It... oh.. never mind it's my husband.

Saurus habits: Roaring

3:32 pm - one Saurus has been spotted in the southern part of the district, arriving from the north.

This is the area around the TopShop center, which is heavily populated. Many people managed to evacuate already, but there is still a Medium level of nearby population.

To the east lie some industrial complexes which are already abandoned - if the Saurus can be lured there this will decrease collateral damage significantly.

We are a group of residents running a small underground shelter, which we consider Saurus proof. The entry is located in the 21st street, inside "Jochen's Grocery Store".

Capacity is limited, and we still need some time for preparation, but we will offer shelter to neighbors who are unable to make their way to official safety points. (for matters of accessibility, kids, etc.)
